WENDELL PHILLIPS. His Christmas Present to the Pres' dent Elect-He Opposes the Repeal of the Tenure of Office Bill, and Cracks the Whip Over the Ears of Consenting Congressmen. [From the Anti-Slavery Standard of the 24th in-stant.] We are wholly opposed to the repeal of the civil office tenure act. For what reasons General Butler proposes it we cannot guess. But there are the strongest reasons for keeping it on the statute The experience of the war has taught ones. Especially it has shown us that a President can never be impeached. Patronage, which we thought meant cus-tom houses and post offices, is found to rule the Senate. Spite, bred of gossip, which was laughed at as a tea-table foible, is seen to poison even prairie and buckeye Senators. Nepotism is not monopolized at Rome. The Pine-tree State produces an article in that line fully equal to the Italian. While the hot purpose of the war was yet unchilled, we tried in vain to impeach the very tool of Jefferson Davis. This lesson has been dearly bought. Let us see we profit by it.

What corruption effected for Johnson in enabling him safely to defy the Constitution, loving trust in Lincoln's "houesty" effected in his case. Hence the war has shown us that, in critical emergencies, we have no Constitution. The gencies, we have no Constitution. The Lourse is most specified by the long list of precedents in this line, beginning with Jefferson's purchase of Louisiana and closing with Kansas, gets its climax in our war experience of Presits climax in our war experience of Presits Command goes through the following idents. We will not say now that there of command, goes through the following able checks, which once removed may never be possible again.

It is rarer still to have an Executive of such unabashed and shameless corruption as to call forth a national rebuke emphatic enough to embolden Congress to go to the very extreme verge of its power for checking him. These two rare circumstances have combined, the last four years, to give us an immense gain in the direction of crippling Execgain in the direction of crippling Executive patronage. The Statute Book, as it stands now, will enable an honest Congress to make future Reverdy Johnsons and Pitt Fessendens impossible.

The sentimental mush of magnanimity has largely demoralized the national consciouse. There is an instinctive conscience. There is an instinctive sense of justice in the commonest nature which repudiates, as immoral, the policy that leaves Forrest and Davis at BOOKS WANTED FOR BINDING. has schooled himself into approving it has demoralized himself. Greeley and Beecher have done good things in years

But all they have done has never lifted the nation so much as their childish and immortal prattle about magnanimity has sunk it in moral sensibility and power. This war has educated the masses in justice. How much the escape of Johnson has corrupted political life time will show. Congress is nearer to

The tendency of all free States is to depress the executive and enlarge the authority of the legislative element .-Progress in that direction seems almost synonymous with growth in liberty. The civil office tenure act is a large stride. Let it be carefully kept, and let us pass

Tricks of a Humbug.

The people of Toledo, Ohio, don't like to be reminded of one Dr. N-, who had rooms there three or four years since, where he performed some miraculous cures, and who was daily visited by large numbers of people, the morning trains on the roads coming in crowded with invalids of every description. The ladies who visited the doctor and shook hands with him, will remember the electric shock which they received on taking his hand in theirs. Many thought this an evidence of miraculous power, and his name and fame spread rapidly over the country, while the afflicted rushed to him in the confident hope of speedy relief. In some instances he gave temporary relief to the patients, and occasionally a permanent cure was the result of his manipulations. In all cases the doctor was certain to relieve his patients of a good fee, unless they would certify that they were not worth a stated sum of money. He carried away over $50,000 as the proceed of his practice in that city. A friend of the doctor's a few days since divulged the means used by the doctor for humbugging the people.— He stated that the doctor placed batteries on his back, sides and feet-six in number-and kept his person charged with electricity to its utmost capacity. This he would impart to his patients, they supposing it to be animal magnetism. In rheumatic complaints and affections of that description, the magnetic shock would afford temporary relief, and thus lead patients to attribute wonderful curative powers to the doctor, which engulled public. In the late election for West Aber deenshire, one of the caudidates was Mr. McCombie, a famous breeder of cattle. His opponents chose two verses from the Apocrypha, and placarded them in

"How can he get wisdom that holdeth the plow, and that glorieth in the goad; that driveth oxen, and is occupied in their labors, and whose talk is of bullocks? He giveth his mind to make farrows: and is diligent to give the kine

It is but simple justice to the subject to enumerate a few of the many additional causes which so largely affect the life, health and happiness of woman in all classes of society, and which, consequently, affect more or less directly, the welfare of the entire human family. The mania that exists for precocious education and marriage, causes the years that nature designed and perverted in the restraints of dress, cited by pleasure, perverting in midfor sleep and rest, the work of destruc-tion is half accomplished.
